1. Whom should we love like___ Thee, Our God, our Guide,___ our King,
2. The storm up - on us___ fell, The floods a - round___ us rose;
3. He came, the King of___ kings, He bowed the sab-___ le sky;
4. A - bove the storm He___ stood, And awed it to___ re - pose;
5. Whom should we love like___ Thee, Our God, our Guide,___ our King,

The tower to which we flee, The rock to which we cling?
The depths of death and hell Seemed on our souls to close;
And on the tem - pest's wings Walked down ser - ene from high;
He drew us from the flood, And scat - tered all our foes;
The tower to which we flee, The rock to which we cling?

O for a thou-sand tongues to show The mer - cies which to Thee we owe.
To God we cried in strong des - pair, He heard, and came to help our prayer.
The earth be-neath His foot - steps shook, The moun-tains quaked at His re - buke.
He set us in a spac - ious place, And there up - holds up by His grace.
O for a thou-sand tongues to show The mer - cies which to Thee we owe.
